THE NAME ON THE SAND.

Alone I walked the ocean strand:
A pearly shell was in my hand:
I stooped and wrote upon the sand
My name—the year—the day.
As onward from the spot I passed,
One lingering look behind I cast:
A wave came rolling high and fast,
And washed my lines away.

And so, methought, 'twill shortly be
With every mark on earth from me:
A wave of dark Oblivion's sea
Will sweep across the place
Where I have trod the sandy shore
Of Time, and been to be no more,
Of me—my day—the name I bore,
To leave no track nor trace,

And yet with Him who counts the sands,
And holds the waters in his hands,
I know a lasting record stands,
Inscribed against my name,
Of all this mortal part has wrought,
Of all this thinking soul has thought,
And from these fleeting moments caught
For glory or for shame.

GENERAL McPHERSON.

We take the following extract of Major General James B. McPherson from a work entitled "Grant and Sherman and their Generals," by J. T. Headley, one of the best historic writers of the age. It is necessary, in our opinion, that the people should know to whom they are indebted for the great work of suppressing the late rebellion. We commence the extract immediately after the terrible countermarch made by Grant from a contemplated attack on Vicksburg, in December, 1863, and in the following spring again commenced operations for the capture of that stronghold:

When he finally crossed the Mississippi below Grand Gulf, and began his march inland, McPherson was his right-hand man. He took part in the battle of Port Gibson, and bridging Bayou Pierre, pressed rapidly after the retreating enemy, whom he overtook at Raymond, posted in a strong position. Knowing, as well as his leader, that swift victories alone could save the army, he did not wait for strategic movements, but in one headlong charge broke the rebel line into fragments, losing over four hundred in the onset. Gathering up his dead and wounded he kept on towards Jackson, marching on the 14th twelve miles through a blinding, pitiless storm. At ten o'clock he drew up his drenched army before the formidable breastworks of the enemy, who were not only strongly protected, but also out-numbered him heavily. The storm now broke and the spring sun shone forth in all its splendor, making the rain drops on the trees and meadows shine like jewels. Awakened by the freshness and beauty, the birds came out and filled the air with their gay carols, a rainbow spanned the heavens, and all combined to make it a scene of transcendent loveliness. Amid this peaceful splendor, McPherson drew up his fifteen thousand bayonets, and riding along the glittering line on his splendid black charger, aroused the enthusiasm of his men by a stirring appeal. As soon as the artillery had got into position and thoroughly searched the hostile works, he ordered a charge. At first, slowly and with measured steps, as though on a dress parade, the column moved over the field, closing up, calmly, the ugly rents made by the rebel artillery, and kept sternly on without returning a shot till within thirty yards of the works, when a sudden flash leaped from the line, followed by a cheer that shook the field, and then, with one bound, they scaled the ramparts and poured like a resistless flood through the hostile camp, scattering everything from their path, and chasing the flying foe into and through Jackson in confusion.

The next day he wheeled about, and led his weary troops back towards Vicksburg, and to new victry at Champion Hill. His losses had been heavy, and the endurance of his troops tested to the utmost; yet nothing could dampen their courage, and on the 18th he planted his flag before the rebel city. He joined in the assaults of the 19th and 22d, which succeeded only in proving the impregnability of the works. In the long siege which followed, his corps occupied the centre. His engineering skill now had full scope, and under his practised eye, the army worked its slow, sure way towards the city. Great in the field, he was, if possible, still greater in the trenches. In less than two weeks his batteries and sharp-shooters had almost silenced the guns in his immediate front. On the 25th of June he sprung a mine under one of the most important forts of the enemy, and got partial possession of it. It was plain that he would soon dig his way into the stronghold.

The interview between Grant and Pemberton, just previous to the surrender, took place in front of his lines, and he was one of the two that the former selected to be present at the conference. On the 4th of July he led his victorious columns into the conquered city, over which he was placed in command.

Grant now recommended him for promotion in the regular army, in the following strong language: "He has been with me in every battle since the commencement of the rebellion, except Belmont. At Forts Henry and Donelson, Shiloh, and the siege of Corinth, as a staff officer and engineer, his services were conspicuous and highly meritorious. At the second battle of Corinth, his skill as a soldier was displayed in successfully reinforcements to the besieged garrison, when the enemy was between him and the point to be reached. In the advance through Central Mississippi, Gen. McPherson commanded one wing of the army with all the ability possible to show, he having the lead in the advance and the rear in retiring.

"In the campaign and siege terminating with the fall of Vicksburg, General McPherson has filled a conspicuous part. At the battle of Port Gibson it was under his direction that the enemy was driven late in the afternoon from a position that they had succeeded in holding all day against an obstinate attack. His corps, the advance always under his immediate eye, were the pioneers in the movements from Port Gibson to Hankinson's Ferry. From the north fork of the Bayou Pierre to Black river it was a constant skirmish, the whole skilfully managed. The enemy was so closely pursued as to be unable to destroy their bridge of boats after them. From Hankinson's Ferry to Jackson, the Seventeeth Army Corps marched roads not traveled by other troops, fighting the entire battle of Raymond alone, and the bulk of Johnson's army was fought by this corps, entirely under the management of General McPherson. At Champion's Hill the Seventeenth Corps and Gen. McPherson were conspicuous. All that could be termed a battle there was fought by the divisions of Gen. McPherson's Corps and Gen. Hovey's division of the Thirteenth Corps. In the assault of the 22d of May, on the fortifications of Vicksburg, and during the entire siege, Gen. McPherson and his command took unfading laurels. He is one of the ablest engineers and most skilful generals. I would respectfully but urgently recommend his promotion to the position of brigadier-general in the regular army." We venture to say a warmer endorsement of a subordinate by a superior was never made than this. It shows conclusively, that what of McPherson's services reached the public ear, was but the smallest fraction of that which he performed. It certainly would have been strange, if after such an unqualified eulogium and urgent recommendation of the victor of Vicksburg, Congress had refused to confirm the nomination cheerfully made by the President. It did not, and in December he was made brigadier-general in the regular army, his commission to date back to the first of August. His gallant corps also voted him a medal of honor.

After the surrender of Vicksburg, and while in command of the place, McPherson made a dash, in person, on the guerillas that were infesting the neighborhood, scattering them in every direction.

The limits of his military jurisdiction were now enlarged, reaching from Helena, Arkansas, to the mouth of the Red River. He remained with his headquarters at Vicksburg till February, 1864, when he took the field, and bore the brunt of Sherman's great raid to Meridian.

When Grant was made General-in-Chief, and Sherman took his place as commander of the department of the Mississippi, the army of the Tennessee was left without a head, and McPherson was at once placed over it. He now had the Thirteenth and Sixteenth Corps added to his noble Seventeenth.

Being engaged to be married to a young lady in Baltimore, he was about taking leave of absence to consummate the union, when he received this appointment. At the same time, the great Atlanta campaign was being organized, in which the Army of the Tennessee was expected to bear a conspicuous part. With that self-sacrifice which so distinguished him, he postponed the marriage till it was completed. Alas, he was destined never again to see the idol of his heart! Like the mother of Sisera, she would exclaim, "Why stays his chariot, why are his chariot wheels so long in coming?"

McPherson at once began to put his army in condition for the perilous campaign before it. His scattered forces were called in and organized at Huntsville, Alabama, and by the 1st of May he was ready to march.

When Sherman finally confronted Johnston in his impregnable position in the Chattanooga mountains, and saw that he must turn it, McPherson was chosen to carry out his plan. Throwing his army beyond the mountains by Snake Creek Gap, the latter suddenly appeared near the railroad at Resaca, in the rebel rear. Had that army been a little stronger in numbers, he could have at once severed the enemy's communications, and forced Johnston here at the outset into an open, decisive battle, which would have virtually ended the campaign. Some blamed him for too much caution, asserting that a bold and sudden stroke would have secured the road, and cut off the rebel retreat. But want of promptness and daring was not one of McPherson's faults. Whatever hesitancy he showed, one may be assured was not only proper, but that an opposite course would have been criminal. He had made a difficult, circuitous march of thirty or forty miles, hoping to carry Reseca by surprise, as Sherman trusted he would; and then, if heavily pressed, fall back to a strong, defensive point, ready to dash on the enemy's flank the moment he attempted to retreat. But the crafty Johnston had guarded against this disaster, and McPherson, when he arrived near the place saw that it was too strong to be carried by assault, and that the rapid concentration of troops there would certainly overwhelm him, and he fell back to Snake Creek Gap, and reported to Sherman the condition of things, who immediately sent Hooker's corps to his support.

McPherson now feeling that he had sufficient force to assume the offensive, stormed and carried the enemy's works. Stung by this defeat, Johnston threw himself with desperate fury upon him, determined to regain the lost position. But his efforts were in vain, and he finally fell back, leaving the ground in front of McPherson dark with the slain.

The army now moved on, McPherson holding the right, and occupied Kingston, May 18th; and still pushing forward, at length came upon the enemy turned at bay in the Kenesaw Mountains. Here Johnston attacked him with a heavy force, but after a most sanguinary struggle, was repulsed at all points, with a loss of twenty-five hundred men.

When Sherman, finding that he could not force the strong position of Kenesaw Mountain, resorted to his old flanking process, he sent McPherson around to the right, to the Chattahoochee River. Johnston at once abandoned his impregnable position, and fell back to Atlanta. McPherson was now transferred from the right to the left, with directions to seize and break up the railroad near Decatur, that lay several miles east of Atlanta, and thus cut off the direct communication between Lee's army at Richmond, and Johnston's, now commanded by Hood.

In the same work we find the following just and truthful description of the character of Major General William S. Rosecrans. As this gentleman has been greatly villified by a portion of the press of this State, we cheerfully append the following sketch:

Rosecrans, as a military leader, possessed high qualities, but they were counterbalanced by several defects. A man of quick and intense feelings, he lacked breadth of thought. Engrossed with his own plans, he seemed unable to conceive the probable moves of his adversary. Again, he seemed to be wanting in a proper appreciation of character in others—that sagacity which almost, by intuition, discerns the proper instruments for the work to be done. After the battle of Chickamauga, there was an attempt to impugn his courage, many asserting that his panic was equal to that of the rank and file, and that he fled in consternation to Chattanooga. This is absurd. He could no more stem the torrent that struck him than one could stop a bursting billow with a feather. His courage is indisputable. His fault, if any, is, that he exposes his person too recklessly in battle. No man who saw him ride through the rain of death at Murfreesboro- steady while all was tumult around him, would ever accuse him of lack of coolness or courage. He is a strong man amid the surging tide of battle, and riding along its fiery edge, is the very impersonation of a hero. He is a pure and upright man, scorning meanness and trickery, and too outspoken in his feelings for his own advantage. A true patriot, a strong man on the battle-field, he has won an enduring fame, and "deserves well of his country."

THE death of a Mormon Bishop is thus announced in a Salt Lake paper: "He was thirty-seven years old, and leaves eleven wives and forty-seven small children to mourn his death."

THE British fleet on the coast of North America consists of 26 ships, with 443 guns, and manned by 5,228 officers and men, two vessels mounting 21 guns and with 440 men.

A worthless bond—a vaga-bond.

THE CONDITION OF MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI, May 7, 1866

A recent trip through southwestern Missouri, commencing with St. Louis and ending at Neosha, bordering on the Indian territory, has satisfied me that Missouri is the most thoroughly settled of all the recently slave States. This region was the theater of the most relentless and bloody war carried on any where within the United States during the late rebellion. It was a war of extermination against rebels in arms. "When we met a bushwacker we killed it," said a Missouri major to me. They treated that class of citizens seeking their rights in a rebellious manner, as vermin. Gen. S——, who was in command there during the war, told me that one company of his command killed eighty of them in ninety days, and took—no prisoners. This policy drove out all that thriftless and unprofitable class, and their place is taken by enterprising and peaceable Eastern men, and to-day order reigns as supremely within her borders as it does in Massachusetts, and she is almost as radical in politics.

There is no sympathy for "my policy" there, except with a small minority, who are mostly rebel sympathizers, together with a few good intentioned people who have conservatism on the brain, and a constitutional hankering for a return of the old Democratic party to power. Gov. Fletcher is deservedly popular with the masses, for he has done much to regenerate this great State. The new constitution—which disfranchises rebels and prevents them from teaching, preaching, practicing law, etc., has worked well in the main, and when it has been amended in a few particulars—as can easily be done—it will suit the exact condition of the people. There is a great hullabaloo just now being raised about the new constitution—but if you take away from this party the returned rebels and their Copperhead allies, who did all they could consistently with the safety of their necks to encourage the rebels—you could put the rest on a Camden ferry boat.

An immense emigration is going on from the free States, the State is making a great effort to complete her system of railroads, and altogether there is a shaking up of the dry bones of the old system. Southwestern Missouri is destined in a very few years to receive a large addition to its population. It is rich in minerals, and for agriculture not surpassed by any section of the great West. Besides its rich prairies and heavily timbered ridges, it has an endless number of springs and streams of the purest water, and a climate mild as Virginia. In Newton county there is a lead mine, from which in a single year, before the war, half a million of dollars of the mineral was taken out. This was by a St. Louis company. A Philadelphia company have recently commenced operations on a tract contiguous to the Granby mines, but have not operated sufficiently to indicate what their success may be.

Springfield is the county seat of Greene county, and is a city of upwards of three thousand inhabitants. It was near here (ten miles south) that the battle of Wilson's Creek was fought and the gallant Gen. Lyon was killed. After the retreat of our troops the wife of Hon. John S. Phelps—who for eighteen years had represented this district in Congress—entered the enemy's lines, got possession of Gen. Lyon's body, carried it to her own house, and had it buried until claimed by the friends in Connecticut. Her husband and son during the war were each in command of Union regiments, and did the cause excellent service. Indeed, this section of country turned out proportionately more Union troops than any in the Union, and so earnest was the spirit of the people that there never was a draft. Now that the war is over, Mrs. Phelps has turned her attention to charitable deeds at home.

The result of the exterminating warfare practiced, was houseless and homeless wanderers, widows and orphans, almost without number. Springfield, at one time, was overwhelmed with this sort of population. After peace many of these found their way back to their own homes, but it left many, alas, too many, who had no homes to go to. Of these, Mrs. Phelps has gathered several scores under her protection—little children of a tender age—and Gen. Howard having turned over to her the hospital building in the quartermaster's department, she has formed an asylum and is taking care of them until they come to be of an age when they can be bound out and apprenticed to trades. Surely the Good Father, who does not suffer the fall of a sparrow to go unnoticed, will reward all such who love and work for their fellow creatures.

Besides this institution, two ladies from Iowa, whose memories deserve to be enbalmed, but whose names I have forgotten, have taken upon themselves the task to instruct and improve the freedmen and women, who are congregated hereabouts, and this without money and without price. An exhibition was given while your correspondent was in Springfield, which showed a high degree of success.

In conclusion, let me say that public meetings have been held in Cass and Laclede counties, endorsing the Representatives of the people in Congress, and this will be followed in other sections of the State. TRAVELER

A LIBERAL CATHOLIC PREACHER.

The religious community of Paris has been strangely agitated of late, by a new preacher, called Father Hyacinthe. The ablest speakers in the two churches, the most celebrated judges, the most renowned writers, crowded to listen to his eloquence. Father Hyacinthe, according to a writer in the London Times, is a member of the order of barefooted Carmelites, the reformed branch of the original Carmelites, named from Mount Carmel, and who claim their descent from Elijah. He is remarkable for his liberal opinions in political, and his tolerance in religious matters. In his recent sermons at Notre Dame, Father Hyacinthe confined himself mainly to the task of combatting the delusion that morality can take the place of religion, or exist independent of it. A devout adherent of the Pope, as head of the Church, he drew a marked distinction between his emporal and his spiritual authority. For perfect liberty of conscience he contended eloquently. He stigmatized persecution for conscience sake as an odious crime. If it has sometimes been allotted to the sword to defend justice and weakness, and uphold religious faith against assault from heathen powers, it cannot be its part to inspire in people the faith which they reject. "The wise man," he said, "should proportion the means to the end; and this end is faith, conviction, and the free adhesion of the mind and the heart. Do you desire and do you believe that the sword can obtain such an object? It is madness, but it is also a crime; because if there be, next to the majesty of God, a majesty which is inviolable, it is the majesty of man's conscience."

These are remarkable words for a Catholic preacher; but there is reason to believe that they reflect the sentiment of a large proportion of French Catholics. The approbation with which they were received by the highest dignitaries of Church and State in the French capital, is but another token of the new reformation which is silently but surely working in the Catholic Church of France and Italy. In both these countries, the dogmas which have kept the people degraded and superstitions are losing their hold upon the popular mind, and giving place to more rational and evangelical ideas. The progress towards the true light is gradual but sure, and will become more rapid as it proceeds.

DESPERATION.

That the author of the following is a Philadelphia student, is necessary to premise, who, after a stolen fortnight and the gayeties of a Washington season, finds himself (through the remissness of a chum) at Baltimore, on his way home, without a penny in his purse. He stops at a fashionable hotel, nevertheless, where, after tarrying a day or two, he finally, at the heel of a grand dinner, omne solus, in the private apartment, flanked with abundance of champagne and Burgundy, resolves to disclose all to the landlord. Summoning a servant, he said:

"Ask the landlord to step up to my room, and bring his bill."

He clattered down stairs laughing, and shortly after his master appeared. He entered with a generous smile, that made me hope for the "best his house afforded," and that, just then, was credit.

"How much do I owe you?" said I.

He handed me the bill with all the grace of a private expectancy.

"Let me see—seventeen dollars. How very reasonable. But, my dear sir, the most disagreeable part of the matter is to be disclosed. I grieve to inform you that at present I am out of money, and I know by your philanthropic looks that you will be satisfied when I tell you if I lied it, I would give it to you with qualified pleasure.' But you see, my not having the change by me, is the reason I can't do it; and I am sure you will let the matter stand, and say no more about it. I am a stranger to you, that's a fact, but in the place where I came from all my acquaintances know me as well as can be."

The landlord all colors.

"Where do you live, and how?"

"In Washing—I should say, Philadelphia." His eyes flashed with angry disappointment.

"I see how it is, Mister; my opinion is that you are a blackleg. You don't know where your home is; you begin with Washington, and then drop it for Philadelphia. You must pay your bill."

"But I can't."

"Then I'll take your clothes; if I don't, then blow me tight."

"Scoundrel!" said I, rising bolt upright, "do it you dare, and leave the rest to me."

There were no more words. He arose deliberately seized my hat and only inexpressibles, and walked down stairs.

Physicians say that two excitements can't exist at the same time in one system. External circumstances drove away, almost immediately the confusion of my brain.

I arose and looked out of the window. The snow was descending as I drummed on the pane. What was I to do? An unhappy "sans culottes" in a strange city; no money, and slightly inebriated. A thought struck me.

I had a large, full cloak, which, with all my other appointments, save those he took, the landlord had spared. I dressed immediately, drew on my boots over my fair drawers, not unlike small clothes; put on my crevat, vest and coat; laid a traveling cap from my trunk jauntily over my forehead; and flinging my fine, long mantle gracefully about me, made my way through the hall into the street.

Attracted by the shining lamps in the portico of a new hotel, a few squares from my first lodgings, I entered, recorded some name on the books and bespoke a bed. Everything was fresh and neat, every servant attentive, all argued well. I kept myself closely cloaked, puffed a segar, and retired to bed to mature my plot.

* * * * * * *

"Waiter, just brush my clothes well my fine fellow," said I in the morning, as he entered my room; "mind the pantaloons; don't spill anything from the pockets; there is money in both."

"I don't see the pantaloons."

"The devil you don't! Where are they?"

"Can't tell, I'm sure; I don't know, s'elp me God."

"Go down, sir, and tell your master to come up here immediately."

The publican was with me in a moment. I had risen, and risen and worked my face before the mirror into a fiendish look of passion.

"Landlord!" exclaimed I, with a fiendish gesture, "I have been robbed in your house—robbed, sir, robbed! My pantaloons and purse containing three fifty dollar notes are gone. This is a pretty hotel! Is this the way to fulfil the injunctions of Scripture? I am a stranger, and have been taken in with a vengeance. I will expose you at once, if I am not recognised."

"I may keep your temper," replied the publican; "I have just opened this house and it is getting a good run. Would you ruin its reputation by an accident? I will find out the villain who robbed you, and I will send a tailor to measure you for your missing garments. Your money shall be refunded. Don't you see your anger is useless?"

"My dear sir," I replied, "I thank you for your kindness; I did not mean to reproach you if those trousers can be done to-day, I shall be satisfied; time is more precious than money. You may keep the others if you find them, and in exchange for the one hundred and fifty dollars which you give me, their contents are yours."

The next evening, with new inexpressibles, and one hundred and forty dollars in my pocket, I called on my guardian in Philadelphia for sixty dollars. He gave it, with a lecture on collegiate dissipation that I shall not soon forget. I enclosed the money back to my honorable landlord by the first post, settled my other bill at old Crusty's, and got my trunk by rail.

WANTED—AN HONEST, INDUSTRIOUS BOY. We lately saw an advertisement headed as above. "An honest, industrious boy;" it conveys to every boy an impressive moral lesson; an honest, industrious boy is wanted. He will be sought for—his services will be in demand; he will be respected and loved; he will be spoken of in the highest terms of commendation—he will always have a home—will grow up to be a man of known worth and established. He will be wanted—the merchant will want him for salesman or a clerk; the mechanic will want him for an apprentice or a journeyman; those with a job to do will want him for a contractor; clients will want him for a lawyer; patients for a physician; religious congregations will want him for a pastor; parents for a teacher for their children and the people as an officer. He will be wanted; townsmen will want him as a citizen, acquaintances as a neighbor, neighbors as a friend, families as a visitor, the world as an acquaintance; girls will want him for a beau and finally for a husband. An honest, industrious boy! Young friend, will you or do you answer the description?

Manhood, a hat; womanhood, a bonnet.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 30, 1866.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

AT LAST.—We are particularly pleased in being able to chronicle the fact that our citizens have at length "waked up" to a sense of their situation, and are now actively engaged in making preparations for a proper display on the Fourth. This is right; but they might have done better to have inaugurated this matter at an earlier day, when greater and more extensive operations could have been had. Guests from abroad might have been invited in time to have given them amble opportunities to prepare; distinguished men engaged to lead in the ceremonies on the occasion sought to be commemorated, which would have made it such an one as would be an honor to all participants. However, we feel confident that those who have the matter in hand will do everything in the power of men and the means at their command to make the occasion a pleasant and agreeable one to those who may elect to be present. The military will give a ball on the evening of the Fourth, to which all are invited without further notice, as there will be no invitation cards issued.

RETURNED.—By an oversight which we very much regret, we omitted to chronicle the return of Capt. M. H. Calderwood and a portion of his brave company some two weeks ago. We do so now, and hope they will look over the seeming neglect, when we assure them that it was an unintentional oversight. The Captain looks rather thin, weighing but about a hundred and thirty pounds when his usual weight is two hundred. Those of his company who have returned also show the effects of the climate in which they have been stationed. We learn that the Captain retained, up to the time of the discharge of his regiment, not only the love and respect of his own men, but the consideration and esteem of all his brother officers, an indication that he was fully competent for the arduous and responsible duties which he performed with credit to himself and satisfaction to all concerned. Gentlemen, we welcome you back among us.

GONE HOME.—On Thursday morning last the Hon. E. L. BRADLEY, accompanied by his family, left for the Atlantic States. Mr. B. will be absent probably six months, visiting his friends and relatives at the East, and return. We know of no man who has exerted the influence for enterprise and go-aheadativeness in the community in which he lived, as has this gentleman, and we know of no one who sustains to such an eminent moral honesty and high integrity as E. L. Bradley. We wish him a safe journey and a speedy return.

ORGANIZED.—The work of organizing under the new militia law commenced on Thursday last. Sixty-three names have been obtained, and it is thought to be but a small job to obtain one more member. The Pacific Guard being one of the companies retained in the State military, in the event of numbering sixty-four members, the officers of the company and a few of our prominent citizens commenced canvassing for names which resulted in the above stated gratifying result. There were forty-two persons sworn in on Thursday evening, and as with today expires the time required for the return of the muster-rolls, those who have not yet taken the oath required under the law should do so immediately. After those present had signed the roll, the company resolved to celebrate the coming Fourth by parade, and wind up the festivities of the day with a ball and supper. The company will have another meeting on Saturday evening, July 7th, for the election of officers.

CAUGHT.—On Monday night two Chinamen attempted to fire Chinatown and deputy Constable Greeley getting wind of the fact arrested them, took them before Justice Aubury where they waived an examination and were sent to the County Jail to await the action of the next Grand Jury. We think we are perfectly safe in saying that there is no crime, from the most foul and cowardly murder down to the most contemptible larceny that these wretches will scruple to commit. Their very presence is a nuisance and disgrace, and although we do not counsel violent measures, we really believe that the people would be justifiable in ridding themselves of every nuisance and disgrace, when the remedies lie in their power. Peaceable if we can; but the remedy should be effected.

APPRECIATED.—We were the recipients last week of a large box of mountain trout, sent us from Webber Lake by Mr. J. F. Calderwood, for which he will please accept our thanks. By the by, Job is now associated with Mr. J. J. Roberts in the splendid stage line running from Meadow Lake to Webber's, and any of their friends visiting either of the above localities could not spend a day more agreeably than seating themselves in one of Roberts & Co.'s splendid coaches and allow themselves to be whirled over elegant mountain roads where the scenery is grand, romantic and beautiful in the extreme.

PERSONS who wish to patronize a worthy man, and one who endeavors to accommodate the public by whose favors he is enabled to live, can call upon Mr. H. K. West, who runs an accommodation line from this place to Secretown, at present, and who will hereafter—as soon as the railroad is completed—run from town to the depot, carrying passengers and baggage at reasonable rates, and rendering every accommodation to those patronizing him. He owns no hotel, consequently persons are landed where they desire, and strangers can rely upon being taken to the best house.

ENLARGED.—We now receive the Meadow Lake Daily Morning Sun in an enlarged form showing that the citizens of the new town are willing to patronize their paper as well as appreciate the efforts of the proprietors in giving them a paper second now only to a first-class city daily.

GONE.—W. H. White, who has been so long and favorably known in the vicinity of Gold Run, leaves for Illinois on the 1st proximo, on a visit to his parents.

OUR CEMETARY.—It is a matter of no consequence to us where we shall mingle with our kindred dust after having "shuffled off this mortal coil." But there seems to be an idea inherent in the breasts of all civilized individuals that their remains should repose side by side with those of people who entertained the same ideas both for the present and the future which they did themselves while they played their part upon this earthly stage. We are led to these remarks by a visit which we made to the final resting-place of those who departed this life among us, whom we claim as kindred. Without appearing to be at all superstitious we think we can venture the remark that there seems to be a sort of desecration of the place of the dead in the fact that unhallowed-looking graves containing the remains of Celestial barbarians, besides possessing every visible indication of barbarism, meet the eye of the mourning friend or relative who visits the tomb of the dear one departed to probably plant roses there, which must at present necessarily bloom side by side with some heathenish offering to appease the wrath of Josh. We do not believe that the place of burial at all affects the undying part, but we have a desire to die among friends and kindred, to have our parting scene witnessed by those we love, and the last sad rite performed by Christian hands. It is therefore no wonder that a good many of our people complain of their dead being interred alongside of others who are exhumed for fear of contamination with them. We therefore say that it is a melancholy sight to look at our cemetery as it now is. All the graves of the Chinese which are not torn up now will eventually be left gaping chasms, and instead of a burial-ground which we can look upon with the sacred reverence which it should always command, we shall have a literal Golgotha, a place which will invariably remind us of graveyard robberies and unburied skulls

MINER'S CONVENTION.—To-day is the time set by those interested in quartz in this county for a convention of persons experienced in this branch of mining to make a code of laws which shall govern persons and interests in Placer county. No step, that we are now aware of, so much needed being taken as this, and it now depends upon the sound judgment and good sense of those who are members, whether the people of the county are to be benefitted or injured. There is ample room to hope for the former, and from the present loose manner of recording claims, and the absence of all practicable rules governing and prescribing the duties of locators, but small fear that we shall be injured. We hope there may be a general attendance at the Convention in Auburn to-day and that the deliberation of that body may be pleasant as well as profitable.

IMPORTANT CASE.—We copy the following from the Nevada Transcript of the 26th, hoping that our legal friends may make a note of it, and that the Justices of the Peace in this county will force a jury upon every delinquent who may come before them:

Last week a case was brought before the County Court upon a writ of habeas corpus, and a decision rendered which will change entirely a practice which has been very common in the Justices' Courts of this State. Several months since a trunk and contents valued at $275, was stolen from a Chinese wash-house, on Pine street The property belonged to a Chinaman living at Stumpf's, and he offered another Chinaman $50 to find the property. The latter went to You Bet, and found a pair of boots and a smoothing iron in the possession of a Chinaman named Au Gep. The latter stated that he bought them of two Chinamen who had stolen them from Nevada. Upon complaint and statement of the Chinaman, Judge Palmer issued a warrant for the arrest of Au Gep, upon the charge of receiving stolen goods. On trial, the defendant, when asked if he wanted a jury, answered that he did not. That he wished to be tried by the Judge, and waived his right of trial by jury. The case went on and the defendant was convicted and sentenced by the Judge. His counsel moved for a new trial upon several grounds, but his motions were overruled, and the defendant was sent to jail. A writ of habeas corpus was issued by Judge Niles and the whole case renewed. Judge Niles decided that trial by jury is a right which defendants cannot waive in criminal cases, and the defendant was discharged from custody, a new warrant was issued, but in the mean time, the prosecuting witness was "brought up" or spirited away, and when the case was again called the attorney for the prosecution moved for the discharge of defendant. It has been the common practice in Justices' Courts of this county, to try criminal cases without jurors if the defendant consented. This practice will have to be abandoned in the future. Every person charged with crime must be tried by jury whether he wish such trial or not.

MODERATE CLEAN UP.—The Summerset claim, at this place, cleaned up on Thursday last twenty-one and a half pounds of amalgum, which, it is thought will realize the owners some two thousand dollars or more. The Dentist that puffed up Paris and slandered the mines at this place, did not know of the existence of this claim when he said our "mines were exhausted." Neither did our people think it a good investment to pay him to puff their mines as the Parisian speculators did.

RAILROAD EXCURSION.—By reference to the advertising columns it will be seen that the Central Pacific Railroad Company will run an excursion train from this place to Sacramento on the Fourth. Taking passengers from the Dutch Flat depot at 6 A. M., and returning, leaves Sacramento after the display of fireworks in the evening. Fare, to Sacramento and back, three dollars.

A TREAT.—Our people have in store for them a treat seldom enjoyed by a community in the interior, in the shape of a lecture by the Rev. M. C. Briggs, of Sacramento. We advise all who think themselves capable of enjoying an evening with one of the most talented men on the Pacific coast to make it a point to be at the Theater, on Monday evening next. Admission price, fifty cents.

PERSONAL.—Our old friend John McCombe, at present engaged in business in San Francisco, but formerly our "chum" at Yankee Jim's, paid our sanctum a visit on yesterday. Many years have passed, John, "since we were first acquaint," and it gives us pleasure to grasp again your friendly hand. May you live a thousand years, and fare sumptuously every day.

WE of many go on the excursion train to Sacramento on the Fourth.

WHERE NEXT?—The Dutch Flat route is giving the Central Pacific Railroad folks a great deal of trouble. They have been surveying and resurveying for the past year, and each time fetch up against an insurmountable and untunnelable obstacle. While the surveyors are traveling the Sierra Nevada Mountains trying to find a crossable place, Crocker sends out his bulletins that all is progressing finely, and the road is bound to go through sooner or later, and in the meantime gives notice that the Company own a turnpike across the mountains. The surveyors have found a new place, which they call "Summit Valley," where they have stuck their last pegs, and think perhaps the road can be forced through. Well, we shall see what we shall see—but we have about given up the idea that the Dutch Flat route will ever amount to much. There are several or more passes up in this section where a railroad can and will yet be built, without any serious difficulty, and after it is built it can be used at all seasons of the year. We are sanguine in the belief that the first train over the mountains will cross at some other point than Dutch Flat.

We take the above from the Chico Courant, printed way up in Butte county, which probably accounts for brother Bishop not being better posted upon one of the greatest enterprises ever started. He says that the "surveyors have found a new place, which they call 'Summit Valley.'" Why, dear friend, the surveyors "stuck their pegs in Summit Valley nearly two years ago, and the laborers have been steadily progressing to that point since the first shovel full of dirt was thrown up at Sacramento. You probably got hold of some account, unofficial, stating that it was supposed the company intended to change the line of the road. We admit you have several "passes" over the mountains up your way, and the devil of it is, that in all probability they will be "passed" for all time to come, so far as railroads are concerned. We'll wager our next week's receipts—which are expected to be heavy—that the road is made over this route, and that too, before any other railroad is constructed over the mountains; that the Central Pacific Railroad Company meet the Union Pacific road, and that there is no other road built across the mountains in the next ten years.

BOUNDARY SURVEY.—We gather the following particulars of the survey which is now being made to define the line between this and Nevada county by the Deputy Surveyor General, from the Stars and Stripes of the 20th instant:

A letter from Supervisor Scott to W. B. Lyon dated at camp near Crystal Lake, June 17, details the progress and experiences of the boundary surveying party up to that date. After some unavoidable delays on the road, they finally reached their starting point and commenced operations on the 12th inst. After a thorough examination, and getting all possible information from the residents in the vicinity, the surveyors deputed by Surveyor-General Houghton, established the initial point within less than ten feet of the point claimed by Mr. Scott when the Supervisors of Nevada and Placer counties met to fix the boundary a few weeks since, and by actual measurement 132 yards north of Finley's stake. On Monday and Tuesday the line was run to the top of the divide, crossing it about 300 yards north of Lewis's old house. On Wednesday the survey ran 80 yards north of the "Bear trap," a short distance east of which it crossed the Donner Lake road for the third time; thence east about 250 yards south of Pierce's and about 25 yards north of Bradley's ranch; half a mile further on crossing the Donner Lake road again near the turn below Polley's, where the party halted to rest. The line at Bradley's is Six-mile valley is 28¼ yards north of Finley's line, which shows a divergence of 149¾ yards in running 2¼ miles. Polley's is in Nevada county, the line running about 200 yards south of Crystal Lake crossing the Yuba near Secord's old camp, leaving Heaton's about a quarter of a mile south of the line. Those best informed say the line will not cross the Yuba again, but continue on the north side, leaving Conner Lake in Placer county. The surveyors are measuring the distance, which they say is necessary, although it retards their progress. Mr. Scott is satisfied that this survey will much benefit this county, and cannot be set aside by Nevada county. The boys are getting along well, and enjoy camp life hugely, although they find the expedition a toilsome one.

CALIFORNIA WOOLEN MILLS.—In the San Francisco Woolen Mill are forty looms and eleven carding machines; three hundred men are employed, of whom about one-half are Chinamen. The Flag remarks upon it as being singular that in a country like California, where herds of thousands of sheep thrive and produce so much wool, and this of the very best quality, and that more stir, more attention has not been directed to this cardinal branch of home manufacture, particularly when it is considered what an enormous tax we are daily paying out for the clothes we wear, and this to those who live far away, and from whom we get no return. Sheer folly, this, to send that money out of the country which should be kept at home. How blind we are to the very foundation maxim of all healthy political economy. It is generally estimated by factory men, that to clean and prepare a pound of raw wool for the card and spindle will cost an average of twenty cents, which, added to its original value, say twenty cents, will bring it up to forty cents. This pound will turn out three yards of flannel, worth by the wholesale sixty cents per yard, and thus there remains a profit of one dollar and forty cents to pay for the labor in manufacturing it into cloth after it has been spun. Again, out of one pound of wool, one and a quarter yards of cassimere can be made, which will amount—wholesale price—to $3 75, leaving $3 55, to pay all expenses in bringing this pound of wool which cost twenty cents, to the condition of cloth. Take blankets—say a pair is worth ten dollars; ten pounds of wool will make one pair, leaving eight dollars to pay all expenses. The manufacturing profits on plain and napped coatings, tweeds, doeskins and shawls and serges may be put at a higher figure, for there must always be a permanent demand for such fabrics. Should only three thousand pounds of wool be worked up during the day, the profits would still be large and encouraging.—Sac. Bee.

THE Examiner appeals to Union men to treat the Call leniently since its return from Democracy. It says:

"Charity, good friends, charity! Don't crowd the little Call too hard. It was only in fun that it went over to the Democracy. It will not do so any more. We will vouch for its future fidelity. We hope "the fierce and relentless spirit" manifested towards it by its old "Union" friends, will be pacified. Good bye, Call. Your sojourn with us was brief and brilliant. You must admit that we treated you well. Now that you have gone home again, don't forget our hospitality."

THE track of the Central Pacific Railroad is now laid in sight of the Dutch Flat, depot, and will probably be finished up to the depot by Monday evening. Our people now hear, distinctly, the "iron-horse" snorting, and it will be but a short time before they will see the cars sailing on the tressle-work by our village.

GOVERNMENT GOLD.—The Sub-Treasurer at San Francisco shipped by the last steamer, on Government account, half a million dollars in gold, which was not on the manifest. The total shipments of gold on Government account, since the 1st of January, aggregate four and a half million dollars.

THE Meadow Lake Sun says that the late Masonic supper and ball at that place was all that could have been expected, had it taken place in towns of five and six years old. The people at Meadow Lak do nothing by halves.

THREE Chinamen were blown up on the railroad work, near Wilson's ranch, on Tuesday last. Injury slight; though it would have been the same had they been killed.

THE SCHOOL LAW.—Below we give some items of interest, says the Transcript, gathered from the revised School Law, of March 24th, 1866. The school year closes on the 30th of June; the census of the children may be taken this month; teachers are required to report by the 10th, the trustees by the 20th of July. Teachers mast include in their reports the statistics for the entire school year, notwithstanding any previous report. The District Clerk is required to furnish pens, penholders, pencils, crayons for blackboards, ink and stationery for the pupils, and pay for the same out of the County School Fund of the district. Trustees are required to maintain a school five months in the year; when the public money is not sufficient for the purpose then they can levy a tax for the deficiency; in case of failure to support a school five months, the law makes it the duty of the Superintendent to remove the trustees and appoint others. No rate bill can be levied until after free school has been maintained for three months. All white children between five and twenty-one years of age are entitled to school privileges; half-breed Indian children, and Indian children living in white families, may be admitted upon a majority vote of the trustees. All other children, including African, Mongolian and Indian, may be admitted into any public school upon a majority vote of the trustees; provided that a majority of the parents of the children attending such school do not make out a written protest to be filed with the trustees.

FRAUDS ON THE REVENUE.—It has been ascertained that great frauds are practiced in San Francisco upon the Internal Revenue Department. The charges, according to an exchange, are that some of the employés of the department are in partnership with the distillers, sharing profits; and in other instances bribes are accepted from persons who are manufacturing spirits, with a view to defrauding the United States out of the two dollars per gallon excise tax. The temptations, to dishonesty by distillers and Government officers are very great, for the tax upon a single barrel of whisky is some $61.

THOSE of our friends residing at Gold Run and vicinity who are partial to liger beer will probably thank us for informing them that Paul Webber, Main street, Gold Run, is now prepared to satisfy the wants of any reasonable man, in this line; furnishing his beverage in extra large three-story glasses, one of which is sufficient to quench the thirst of a mastodon. All for one bit.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—P. Ritchter, an employé at the Eclipse mill in this place, while adjusting the belt to the pulley that runs the counter-shaft; yesterday afternoon, found himself entangled in the same and was carried for several times around the shaft. The place is very low and dark, and the man describes his feelings, when he first commenced making his revolutions, as very intense and agonizing. He was away from all others employed about the mill—he knew no cry of his could be heard among the rattle of the machinery, and yet he escaped with simply the breaking of his arm in one place between the wrist and elbow. Every particle of clothing this man had on was torn from his body in strips, and we were shown the same revolving around the shaft this morning. A most miraculous escape, truly. Ritchter is doing well this morning.—Gold Hill News, June 22d.

AT HIS OLD TRICKS.—The Satanic representative of this office last night was guilty of an unheard of outrage in the boldly kissing of an angelic pair of lips which was turned up invitingly to his rude phiz. If these things go on much longer we shall go crazy. Then to see the awkward manner in which the thing was done. Johnny, we are astonished at you!

CHANGED.—Those having business with the telegraph office hereafter, will find that institution moved to the drug store of D. W. Strong, where all business connected with it can be transacted.

SINGULAR AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Denver News of June 2d, says:

While the Julesburg operator was repairing the line between Julesburg and Alkali to-day, he was informed by several persons that Mr. John Whitton, a driver in Alexander Benham's train, when some eight miles west of Alkali, had reason to lift the telegraph line off the ground; when a flash of lightning struck the line at that point, tearing it into small pieces, and instantly killing Mr. Whitton. The men who saw the accident state that they observed a ball of fire, as large as a man's fist, issue from Whitton's breast. He was buried on the spot where he was killed. The operator states that this was the most terrific storm of lightning he had ever seen.

A FACT WORTH PRINTING.—At a second-class hotel in Frankfort, Ky., a few days since a little girl entered the bar-room, and in in pitiful tones, told the bar-keeper that her mother, had sent her there for eight cents.

"Eight cents?" said the bar-keeper.

"Yes sir."

"What does your mother want of eight cents? I don't owe her anything.

"Well," said the child, "father spends all his money here for rum, and we have had nothing to eat to-day. Mother wants to buy a loaf of bread."

A loafer surgested to the barkeeper to kick the brat out.

"No," said the barkeeper, "I'll give her mother the money; and if her father comes back again I'll kick him out."

Such a circumstance never happened before, and may never happen again. Humanity owes that bar-keeper a vote of thanks.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1836. In this age of deceit and charlatanism, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not he detraction of others, to establish his reputation or reap of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after learning his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. If no cure does the Doctor make a charge, unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consultation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, he can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News-

AT LEAST two-thirds of the Diseases with which the human family are afflicted, are brought on by the want of attention to the condition of the Blood. Whenever the blood becomes impure, no matter from what cause, the effects of such impurity are immediately felt, either in one way or another; and unless measures are at once taken to remove such impurities, the whole system becomes affected, and long fit of sickness and sometimes death is the result. Dr. Samuel Adams, a well known chemist of San Francisco, has discovered certain herbs and roots, mostly of California growth, which, being combined with Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Potash, and proceeded in accordance a Medicine that, while it is perfectly harmless in every particular, will in short time completely eradicate from the Blood all impurities of whatever nature, and will restore the patient to perfect manly health. The preparation is called "ADAMS' BLOOD PURIFIER," and is for sale at wholesale on the United States Drug Store, corner of Bush and Powell streets, San Francisco, and by Dr. D. W. Strong, Dutch Flat. 4[illegible]

CALIFORNIANS should test the merits of DR. JOS. TETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Which is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand in the mines. It daily nerves all the tone of a deranged stomach, imparts fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheers the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Dr. Tetter's Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. jn30-1y

DR. J. F. GARON.—This celebrated physician has returned to San Francisco, after an absence of a year, during which time he has visited the prominent hospitals in the United States, England and France; and having carefully studied the different modes of treatment in all these establishments, he comes back with full knowledge as to a proper adaptation of them in the peculiar climate here. He has returned and resumed the practice of his profession at No. 317 Kearney street, where he will be pleased to see all his old patients, and those, who are suffering from ills which his practice will allow him to cure. His card will be found in another column.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC,
CORRECTIVE AND ALTERATIVE,
—OF—

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, whether arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system, or produced by special causes.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME; careful and conservative in its effects, enters in to the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular vegetable tonic contains no mineral nor fiery spirit to disturb, but on the contrary, by its gentle agency, it infuses a new vitality into the stomach, bowels and nerves, with the solid and purest of all diffusive stimulants.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS has no rival. Its effects are immediate and permanent. Before they can be appreciated, the use of Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes must be abandoned. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility, and Dyspepsia, indicating a decline from which there is no apparent rallying, the use of this Bitters will be found productive of the most happy results. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to reinforce and reestablish them.

The weak Stomach is quickly invigorated and thoroughly restored by this agreeable Tonic, and in fact it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA, and in those confirmed forms of INDIGESTION, Colic, as quickly and positively as accident, as well as upon the liver, it also immediately relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habits, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive and from both sexes.

The decay of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

Last, though not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT, being entirely freed from coarse and fiery mineral materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF THE
AMERICAN WATCHES,
Made at Waltham, Mass.

In consequence of the recent great decline in gold and silver and in the materials used in the manufacture of our goods, and in anticipation of a still further decline, we have reduced our prices to as low a point as they can be placed

WITH GOLD AT PAR.

So that no one need hesitate to buy a watch now from the expectation that it will be cheaper at some future time. The test of ten years, and the manufacture and sale of

More than 200,000 Watches,

Have given our productions the very highest rank among time-keepers. Commencing with the determination to make only thoroughly excellent watches, our business has steadily increased as the public became acquainted with their value, until for months together we have been unable to supply the demand. We have repeatedly enlarged our factory buildings until they now cover over three acres of ground and give accommodation to more than eight hundred workmen.

We are fully justified in stating that we now make MORE THAN ONE-HALF OF ALL THE WATCHES SOLD IN THE UNITED STATES. The different grades are distinguished by the following trade marks engraved on the plate:

1.—"American Watch Co., Waltham, Mass."
2.—"Appleton, Tracy & Co., Waltham, Mass."
3.—"P. S. Bartlett," Waltham, Mass.
4.—"Wm. Ellery."
5.—OUR LADIES' WATCH of first quality is named "Appleton, Tracy & Co.," Waltham, Mass.
6.—Our next quality of Ladies' Watch is named "P. S. Bartlett," Waltham, Mass. These watches are furnished in a great variety of sizes and styles of cases.

The American Watch Co., of Waltham, Mass., authorize us to state that without exception of trade mark or price,

All the Products of their Factory are fully Warranted

To be the best time keepers of their class ever made in this, or any other country. Buyers should remember that, unlike the guarantee of a foreign maker who can never be reached, this warrantee is good at all times, against the Company or their Agents, and that after the most thorough trial, any watch should prove defective in any particular, it may always be exchanged for another. As the American Watches made at Waltham are for all the dealers generally throughout the country, we do not solicit orders for single watches.

CAUTION.—The public are cautioned to buy only of responsible dealers. All persons selling counterfeits will be prosecuted.

DR. JEAN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University of California and Physician of the St. John Parish Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has, during the past twenty years, devoted his whole attention to the treatment of Private Diseases, and the Diseases of Females, and has established a reputation for skill and success in the treatment of these diseases, which is not surpassed by any Physician in the United States.

DR. PERRAULT'S Medical Office is No. 2, Kearny street, between Clay and Washington streets, San Francisco, and can be consulted at all hours of the day, and by letter, on the receipt of a description of the case.

DR. PERRAULT has published a Medical Work, which he offers to the public at his office. Address Box 1,957, San Francisco. Medicines sent to all parts of the country. No. 2, Kearny street, between Clay and Washington streets, San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT'S Medicines have been introduced into Physical Debility, the results of injudicious indulgence in early youth, which usually terminate in Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Sterility, and permanent Incapacity for Marriage, and all the long train of evils which follow in the wake of this destroyer of life and that of posterity. Many who are suffering from the effects of this destructive habit, are not aware that premature decline of the vital powers is the inevitable consequence. Nervousness, Debility, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Memory, Pimples on the Face, Aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Evil Forebodings, Timidity, Trembling, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constipation, Pains in the Back, Kidneys, Dizziness, Universal Lassitude, Discharges in the Urine, and many other symptoms, are the sad attendants upon this destructive habit. Who that understands the subject can mistake the cause of the above symptoms? Who that reads the following symptoms can doubt that they arise from the above cause? Is there a disinclination to business, or society, or study? Is there a feeling of dread at the sight of company? Is there a disinclination to perform the ordinary duties of life? Is there a loathing of food? Is there a dizziness when rising suddenly from a sitting posture? Is there a wakefulness at night, and restlessness during sleep? Is there a frequent desire to pass the water? Is there a sensation of burning heat, or pain, in making water, the latter sometimes being mixed with it? Is there a weakness of the back, and general debility? Is there a dislike to company, or to reading, writing or the transaction of business? Is there a disinclination to enter into the married state, as well probably considering the Diseases of Females, and that Sight and Heart are Weakened and Destroyed by diseases, melancholy, dejection of spirits, palpitations, cough, and slow fever, which come from a sexual abomination, and sometimes exhibit many of the most common symptoms or principles in the following, and which I will prove to exist in the above cases in many particulars, if any should apply immediately to me. Persons suffering from the diseases named should apply immediately to Dr. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter, as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions in from one to six weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases, Stricture, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Buboes, Ulcers, Eruptions, Eruptions, etc., will be treated upon the most reasonable terms. All Mercurial and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best of references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation, claiming not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we will fill our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures.

Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.

Personals or letters can be directed to Dr. PERRAULT, dressing a letter to Dr. PERRAULT, corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 1,957, P. O., San Francisco, stating the case as minutely as possible, general habits or living, occupation, etc.

FUNERAL OF GENERAL SCOTT.

GEN. GRANT'S ORDER.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The following orders have been issued in relation to the obsequies of the late Lieutenant General Winfield Scott:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 30th.

The funeral of Lieutenant General Scott, having been arranged to take place on Friday, first day of June, proximo, the custom-houses of the United States are, by order of the President, directed to be closed on that day, as a mark of respect for the memory of the deceased. Flags of all revenue cutters will be placed at half-mast.

H. McCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, May 30th.

The Department announces to the navy and marine corps the death of Lieutenant General Winfield Scott of the United States Army. This illustrious officer departed this life at West Point, New York, on the 29th, at eleven o'clock A. M. In honor of this distinguished General, the commandants of Navy Yards and stations will direct the flags of their general commands to be hoisted at half-mast until sunset, and fifteen minute guns to be fired at meridian on Friday, June 1st, the day of the funeral, or on the day after the receipt of this order.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY, ADJ. GEN'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, May 30, 1866.

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 33.

With profound sorrow the General-in-Chief announces to the army the death at West Point, on the 29th inst., of its late illustrious Commander, Brevet Lieutenant General Winfield Scott. His history is part of the history of the country. It is almost needless to recall it to those who have venerated him so long. He entered the army as a Captain in 1808.

At the close of the war of 1812 and 1814, he had already by the force of merit won his way to the rank of Brevet Major General. In 1841 Major General Scott was assigned to the command of the army. In the Spring of 1845, the Mexican war having already begun, he commenced, as Commander-in-Chief of the Army in Mexico, the execution of a plan, originating the success of which was as complete as its conception was bold, and which established his reputation as one of the first soldiers of the age.

A grateful country conferred on him in 1855 the rank of Brevet Lieutenant General as a token of its estimate of his military services. As the vigor of his life, whether in peace or war, had been devoted to the service of the country he loved, so well, so in his age his country gave to him in return that veneration, reverence and esteem which, won by force, is the highest reward a nation can give.

Of most commanding presence, with a spirit of great breath and vigor, pure in life, his memory will never fade from the minds of those who have reverenced him so long.

As a testimony of respect, the officers of the army will wear the usual badge of mourning for six months on the left arm and the hilt of the sword. Guns will be fired at each military post, at intervals of thirty minutes, from sunrise to one o'clock P. M. on the day succeeding the receipt of this order.

Troops will be paraded at 10 A. M. and this order read to them, after which all labor on that day will cease and the flag will be kept at half-mast during the day. By command of Lieutenant General GRANT.

E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G.

WHAT GENERAL GRANT IS REPORTED TO HAVE SAID.

The Lewiston (Me.) Journal gives the report of an hour's conversation between the editor and General Grant, in which, if the report is true, the General was extremely prolix, taking his conversations generally as an example:

He is reported to have said there were some parts of the country where our armies had never trod, particularly Texas, which needed to feel the blighting effects of war to bring their people to a realizing sense of the enormity of the crime, and the necessity of a thorough repenting. He found that those parts of the South which have not felt the war, and particularly those which have been within our lines, and have therefore escaped the rebel conscription, are much less disposed now to bring themselves to the proper frame of mind than they were one year since. A year ago, said he, they were willing to do anything; now they regard themselves as masters of the situation. Some of the rebel Generals, he added, are behaving nobly, and doing all they can to induce the people to throw aside their old prejudices, and reform their course to the changed condition of things. Johnson and Dick Taylor particularly are exercising a good influence, but, he added, Lee is behaving badly. He is conducting himself very differently from what he had reason, from what he said at the time of surrender, to suppose he would. No man at the South is capable of exercising a tenth part of the influence for good that he is; but instead of such, he is setting an example of forced acquiescence so grudging and pernicious in its effects as to be hardly realized.

The men who were in the rebel armies, said Grant acquiesce to the result much better than those who stayed at home. The women are particularly bitter against the Union and Union men, of course. He added there is some bitterness of feeling among all classes, but I am satisfied it would soon die out if the leading men had not somehow got the idea that treason, after all, was not very bad, and that the Southern cause, as they phrase it, will yet triumph—not in war but in politics.

In my judgment, said Grant, the course of certain men and certain papers in the North is such as to do incalculable mischief in making the late rebels believe that they are just as much entitled to vote as ever; that if they will only stand by what they are pleased to call their rights they will have help from the North.

This, significantly added Grant, is only playing over again the incipient stages of the rebellion. He was confident that the large majority of the Southern people would smother their resentments and become good citizens, if these mischief-makers at the North, the Copperheads, would only let them alone. For himself, if he had the power, the first thing he would do would be to seize the New York News and kindred sheets, which are moving the South so dangerously with an idea of their own position and right.

Troops, said General Grant, must be kept in all the principal points in the South for some time to come. This will be necessary to repress the turbulence of a class of the South very dangerous to all well disposed persons, and also, to protect the rights of the freedmen, who are looked upon with deep hatred by a very large proportion of the people.

THE wheat crop at the West this year is expected to be light, as but little Winter wheat will be raised. A large amount of Spring wheat has been sown, and it is now looking well.

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE

Established by
DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850.
FOR THE CURE OF ALL PRIVATE DISEASES AND ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,
536 WASHINGTON STREET.
SAN FRANCISCO. : : : : : : : : : CALIFORNIA

NO CURE. NO PAY.

Consultation by letter, or otherwise, FREE. For direction of letters, see below.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the noiseless renowned establishment of Bivord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALE and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the seeds of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venereal Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medicine to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles its dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be Satisfied with Partial Cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of most learned DOCTORS' CURES. Be satisfied before consulting a physician whom by reputation and thorough investigation into the cases of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

All cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT SPEEDY and PERMANENT.

Cures are always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its allied ailments; Gonorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Urethra, and Secret or Special Weakness, no matter of how long standing, from whatever cause produced, or how complicated, Cures are always warranted. NO PAY REQUIRED, at the

Private Medical Institute,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORRHŒA. The young man who experiences that gnawing weakness in the seminal organization should stop to consider what it means. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, nervous shuddering of the approach of the powers of the mind, dark or sunken eyes, dimness of sight, or boldness, coldness, or clammy dampness of the hands, and many other symptoms of disorganization, the sure evidences that the most terrible and destructive of all diseases, Seminal Weakness, has marked its victim. Seminal Weakness—what it is, how it is contracted, and the home of its victims—and how to cure it, and bring back the broken path of its victims towards a healthful organization—is the subject of a pamphlet of extensive information, published by the Institute, and which will be sent to any address, free of charge, on application. If you have contracted this disease, or if you have symptoms of it, or if you are afflicted with any of the diseases of the urinary organs, the commencement of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the sacred and hope of many, brings to such no ray of hope or cure, but adds to it misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for happiness is doomed to disappointment, and all through an ignorance of the symptoms of this disease. Therefore no person except in positive and skilful treatments. Consult them, at once a physician whose long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have been the victims of so-called "Quacks" and "Pretenders," and have been robbed of their money, and disappointed and disgusted in the habit, which calls thousands of victims every year into premature graves, and hundreds of unfortunate graves within a stand of victims should not consult without a moment's delay, one who will give them what they require, a SKILFUL PHYSICIAN. Dr. C. addresses himself specially to such cases, and guarantees a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to afford relief, and who commands a standing in society sufficient to give confidence of the community? The Doctor understands how females are situated in this respect, and how delicate it is for them to interpose, and by the attention of the call cured to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medicinally and surgically, but in a manner, but in a thorough manner—years of study and practice have qualified him to take a position in this respect that cannot be compared with it in any other city in the world. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whom secrecy and confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. No address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the original prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be upon all occasions unfailing in their action. No lady should be without these Reliable Agents. None genuine unless bearing the signature of the Doctor.

IMPORTANT

ELECTRICITY AS A CURATIVE AGENT

When it was promulgated by the Directors of the Electropathic Institute that disease could be entirely eradicated from the system without the use of poisonous drugs the thoughtless and those who do not look deeply into cause and effect scouted the assertion as chimerical, and wrote articles replete with sophistry, claiming that only through the digestive system could the blood be purged of the poisons which constitute disease; a great cry went up from those interested in the continued supremacy of the old system of one poison to cure another. All of the empirics joined in the chorus, and in their ignorance laughed at the new system, circulating base stories of its ill success, and quoting imaginary cases as proofs. Time has demonstrated their dishonesty. After five years of uninterrupted success the Electropathetic system is the leading idea in medical jurisprudence. While by the old system, physicians are contented to cure one in every five cases, there were those who were diving deep into the science of the curative art; among these were the Electropathists; finally, it was discovered that the failure in most of the cases of organic diseases, was entirely due to the machine. Taking this view of the case, Dr. J. H. Josselyn, after years of experiment, has perfected an Electropathic Instrument, which will cure any disease which flesh is heir to, always to be understood that the case is not so far advanced as to show a destruction of the vital tissue. From early morn until late at night, this instrument is employed, imparting health and vigor to all who are so fortunate as to obtain its services. We do not claim that the use of medicines may not be more advantageous in some cases, but, that in connection with machines, it will perform a cure much sooner than without, and also that diseases hitherto deemed incurable, can be cured by this system, but the Directors desire to take this opportunity to inform invalids that the Resident Physician is a regular graduate and has had large experience in the treatment of disease, both with and without the assistance of electricity; he has also discovered several "electric" Vegetable remedies that will cure almost any nameable disease, which he will send with full instructions for use, to any part of the Pacific coast upon a receipt of a complete description of the disease with which the applicant may be afflicted, and will warrant a complete and perfect cure in all cases where the medicines are used according to direction, and more especially in all cases of female troubles, where great care and caution are necessary to a favorable result. Disease (which by the old system) took months, and even years to cure, are now cured in a few days or weeks. The cost, too, is not so great as by the old system, besides the saving of time. Connected with this system are the renowned than which there is no more powerful auxiliary in the world for the radical cure of disease. There is no institute in the State where the electropathic system is practiced, except at the

Electropathic Institute,

645 Washington street.

This Institute was established to, if possible prevent the unwary from falling into those dens of robbery (yclept quack doctors' traps), and hereafter the most unlimited confidence will be reposed in the Institute which has been made to be to blame if the afflicted are robbed of their money, and injured in constitution. There is another view of the affair. The rising generation should be reared with strong constitutions, and the Directors wish to arouse their guardians to a proper sense of their duties in the premises, if possible to prevent them from stuffing their young charges with deleterious drugs, with a chance of entailing upon the tender constitution just forming, a complication of evils, a thousand times worse than death.

It would be consuming space, to no purpose, to enumerate the diseases to which this system is applicable, suffice it to say, that there is no disease, within the cognizance of human ills but what can be cured at the Electropathic Institute. We have instructed the Resident Physician to warrant a perfect and permanent cure, or ask no pay for services, when in his judgement it is within the bounds of cure.

CAUTION.

Persons seeking the Electropathic Institute, should be careful to remember the name and number.

Persons wishing to consult the Resident Physician by Letter, can do so with the utmost confidence. All letters must be addressed plainly, J. H. JOSSELYN, M. D., Box 1945, San Francisco, Cal. All letters will be destroyed or returned, as directed by the writer.

4th.—The rapidity of its working and the quality of the work done.
5th.—The self-adjusting Tension.

The Florence was awarded the first and highest premium at the State Fair of California, the only Fair on the Pacific coast at which any two doubld thread Sewing Machines were exhibited in competition in 1865.

The Florence received the only premium awarded by the Mechanic's Institute of San Francisco, in 1864 and 1865, to any Sewing Machine, Sewing Machine Co., or Agent. The claim of a competitor to a medal is without any foundation whatever.

Wherever the Florence has been brought in competition with other Sewing Machines, it has always been declared the best. It is the most simple, the most substantial, the most efficient, and its use is easily learned. Every Machine sold is guaranteed in the full sense of the word.

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY,

(Established in 1851.) 617 Kearney Street, near Commercial, San Francisco.

For the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, syphilis in all its forms; seminal weakness, impotency, etc. Skin diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated legs, successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe—among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High St. Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Luke's, Old street; St. Mary's, Cam Place, Paddington, Harrow road; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitehall place; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DR. GIBBON has visited Drs. Acton of London; Parker of Birmingham, England; and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DR. GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment, which cannot be surpassed.

DR. GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1, 1865.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering or in a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at the pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces, and their hyena-constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to all those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended Doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Syphilis is Syphilis the world over; so is small pox, consumption and other diseases, to the contrary of what quacks may say.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse.—This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of mortifying symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures: pallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunt intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, aversion to the society of new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of, combating this complaint, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. DR. G. will give $100 to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to DR. GIBBON, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for ten dollars, sent by registered letter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are trade-men, and became too lazy to work at their trade. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc.—Look over the San Francisco City Directory and you will find their former occupation in it. Look at the Directory for 1862. The only way to avoid imposition is make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, advertising physicians in eight cases of ten are bogus, there is no safety in dealing till you know what they are. DR. GIBBON does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. DR. GIBBON will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

QUICK CURES AND MODERATE CHARGES.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S
Private Medical and Surgical Institute,
Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and Scientific Medical Aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all Sexual Diseases.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal emissions, Sexual Disability, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates from two of his patients, who, having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a Notary Public.

The welfare of society imperiously demand their publicity, and they are given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praise of a Physician, of whom hundreds of like cases can be cited during a practice of more than fifteen years.

DR. DOHERTY—Dear Sir: I feel my health so fully restored, that in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some some written acknowledgement for your valuable services—particularly as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. Being a stranger in this city, and believing those Doctors who gave such positive assurances of success were necessarily the best, (some of whom have a large number of titles,) I placed myself in their charge and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money
